

Piechowski Jerzy, *Microform Collections of the Library of the Ossoliński National Institute of the Polish Academy of Sciences in Wrocław

The article discusses the history of collecting microform sets in ZNiO, the establishment of a separate organizational unit and its activities, as well as the current state of the sets and the planned directions of their development.